FOREWORD

THIS, our nineteen hundred thirty-two ROSENNIAL, is a chronicle of four happy years that will always live in memory. As we turn its pages, we are reminded of our trials and successes in gaining a high school education, of pleasant associations with teachers and classmates, of strong friendships we have made, and of the great victory in basketball that climaxed the last year of the Class of '32 in N. H. S. The staff has done its best to make this a worth-while book, not only for the seniors but also for all Newcastle High School students. Our one wish in presenting the book is that others may enjoy owning it as much as the staff has enjoyed publishing it.

DEDICATION

BECAUSE we are so proud of the fame and glory that has come to our school with the winning of the State Basketball Championship, and because we hold in highest esteem a coach and a team who always played the game fairly and honestly, we wish to dedicate the ROSENNIAL of nineteen hundred thirty-two to

BOARD OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES

ALL questions and problems affecting the school are brought before three capable business men who form the Board of School Trustees. These men are Mr. Martin L. Koons, president; Mr. Claud Stanley, secretary; Mr. E. G. McQuinn, treasurer. Much credit should be given to them for the competency that they show in giving a final decision. We are indeed fortunate to have such highly respected citizens as members of our school board.

SUPERINTENDENT E. J. LLEWELYN

TO THE SENIORS

"In our time, no young person can hope to succeed in any vocation unless thoroughly trained for it. The day has passed for chance success, and the day has passed for untrained ability to succeed.

"For twelve years you have been getting the necessary preliminary training. In order to succeed individually, you must go on as far as you can with your education.

"Go on, then, with the blessing of your teachers and of your Alma Mater on your heads, and in your hearts may you receive the higher blessing of Him to whom all the real success of earth belongs."

PRINCIPAL R. H. VALENTINE

"John Ruskin once said that every man should know three things: 'Where he is, where he is going, and what he should do under the circumstances. The man who knows these three things, and has a will so trained that it will do what it should, is educated; and the man who knows them not is uneducated, even though he may be able to speak with all the tongues of Babel.'"

DEANS

FRIENDSHIP, wisdom, patience, sincerity, and guidance — these are the qualities that make Deans helpful counselors of high school students. We feel that the four who have been chosen for this purpose in our high school — Miss Chambers, Miss Westhafer, Mr. Bronson, and Mr. Greenstreet are richly endowed with these characteristics.

The helpful guidance of Miss Chambers, who is head of our English Department, has been greatly missed by the Senior Class. Due to ill health she has taken a year's leave of absence.

The school is very fortunate in having such a supervisor of girls as Miss Westhafer, acting head of the English Department, and the boys have been greatly benefited by the advice and guidance of Mr. Bronson and Mr. Greenstreet.

THE CLASS OF 1933

(Tap! Tap!) "The meeting has been called to order. We will first hear from our Newcastle representative."

(Representative rises) "Readers of the Rosennial: As representative of the Junior Class of the Newcastle High School, I would like to give to you a few of our outstanding characteristics. We entered high school two years ago last September as very bashful and bewildered Freshmen. Since that time we have tried to make a name for ourselves, to take active part in all school affairs, and to make the class of 1933 one of the most outstanding."

"In football last fall we were well represented by Dick Manning, Niles Livezey, Sidney Baker, Deronda Carpenter, and Charles Shirk. Their spirit of fighting, never say die, and grim determination, helped them to win many games."

"The call for basketball was sounded and many of our class responded. Bill Thoman became a member of the first five that won for us the coveted State shield and our first state championship. Bill was the Trojan's leading scorer and one of the reasons for our brilliant season's record. (Ask Muncie if Bill can play basketball, for his last-second field-goal sent the Bearcats scampering.)"

"Dick Manning, Don Fields, Fred Blum, and Emmett Smith were members of this year's Colts which won the Annual Henry County Tournament. These boys, together with Thoman and upcoming players of the other classes, will no doubt help to produce another formidable five under the splendid leadership of Coach Hooker."

"'Minnie' Reeves, student manager, was a great help to the team with his willingness to work and help the boys at any time. Jean Krenzer and Gene Wallace, capable yell leaders, led the school in yells, giving the team that added pep needed to win a game."

"Not only did we shine in athletics, but also in other class activities. Names of many of our classmen appeared on the staff of our school paper, the Phoenix. We are represented in the Student Council, Foreign Relations Club, Science Society, Hi-Y, Pep'ers, Leather Lungs, and many of our classmen were officers in these clubs and societies. Not to be outdone scholastically, many of our names appeared on the Honor Roll."

"Virginia Trobough, Jean Krenzer, Gene Wallace, Bill Thoman, Bill Clift, Margaret Barnard, and Ruth Reece were all in the local oratorical contest. In the Discussion League, about a month later, we find the names of Virginia Trobough, Jean Krenzer, Ruth Reece, and Charles Shirk."

"We have all worked hard and we believe that when we are graduated next year it can truly be said of us that there never was a class that tried harder or strove more diligently to make a success."

THE CLASS OF 1934

BEFORE investigating the class of 1934, its goings and its comings, I consulted a number of dictionaries for the purpose of gaining more knowledge of the meaning of our second year label, namely the title "Sophomore." From the results I gathered that we are officially "Sophos Mores," the Greek words that mean "wise" and "foolish." The state of being a wise fool was defined as "inflated in style and manner."

We feel infinitely higher up than the Freshmen, and do not consider that we are inferior to the Juniors or Seniors. Wait till we are up there, we'll show 'em!

We have a right to feel inflated, having one of our members on the eight-tenths-Senior Championship basketball squad. As our Mr. Hooker says, "One sweet basketball player," Howard Dungan. Jimmie LaMar, who is fast developing into a promising center, is numbered among the "Wise Fools." There are also Hathaway Krausbauer, Leroy Hiatt, Fred Blum, Byron White, "Bud" Tout, and Edward Dyer.

Most of these men have, earlier in the school year, donned the helmets, shoulder pads, etc., to fight for the green and white between the crossbars. With a record like the Trojans made, it is considered an honor to be on the football squad. Due to graduation the Sophomores, Dyer, LaMar, Ellis, Krausbauer, Hiatt, and Dungan, will furnish good material for next year's horsemen on the gridiron.

Both the Leather Lungs and the Pep'ers are considerably more "windy" because we help comprise their numbers. We have already started monopolizing the offices of the Leather Lungs; Duane Hall being elected as Vice-President while the Secretary-Treasurer's duties will be managed by George Wittenbeck. Our contribution to the Student Council is Betty Elmore, by whom we are ably represented.

Most of our class studies part of the time, and, besides having a commendable portion of its numbers on the Honor Roll, we feel we are making real progress and learning something. Mr. Valentine is of the opinion that, as a whole, the class of present "wise fools" has a fifty-fifty chance for making an enviable record. Also, being in our second year, we realize what an honor the Ten Trojan Netmen have conferred upon us, and we are going to help duplicate this achievement.

In closing we "wise fools" realize that the past was "foolish" and are determined that the future shall be "wise"; also we realize that the present Sophomore Class is better than any of the Sophomore Classes of the past, and it will be the best Junior Class and the best Senior Class in the history of the Newcastle High School.

THE CLASS OF 1935

Come ye haughty upperclassmen,
 Proud and lofty upperclassmen,
 Come and listen to our story,
 To the story of the children,
 To the story which the Freshmen,
 Humble and yet hopeful Freshmen,
 Timid and yet boastful Freshmen,
 Tell of their renowned proceedings.

On a bright September morning,
 When the heat burned up the pavements,
 From the hillside and the valley,
 From the cabin to the city,
 Came the Freshmen to the opening,
 To the opening of the school year.
 And the teachers stood in wonder,
 Stood in awe at their great number,
 And the Sophomores fled in terror,
 When they saw their places taken
 By the stampede of the Freshmen.

Soon the Juniors bowed before them
 And the Seniors from a distance,
 Heard beyond the far horizon,
 A great tumult and a murmur,
 As of crowds in wild excitement.
 This was but the Freshmen children,
 Climbing up the mount of learning,
 Taking everything before them.
 Once they gawked and stared and listened,
 Once they wandered round the building,
 Now they seize scholastic honors,
 Drive the teachers wild with questions,
 Drink deep the fount of wisdom,
 Tread upon the heels of others,
 Of the ones that once did chide them.

When the players win at football,
 When the trackmen leap the hurdles,
 When the batter hits the baseball,
 When the Trojans score in triumph,
 And out rival all the netmen
 Of the State, in scoring baskets,
 There you find the Freshmen striving
 There you find them laughing, cheering,
 Chewing gum or eating candy,
 Yelling for the winning Trojans.

Now they number six and sixty,
 And two hundred strong and sturdy,
 Nothing now can stand before them.
 With their Freshmen year behind them,
 They will soon displace the Sophomores,
 Who in turn will force the Juniors,
 To drive out the haughty Seniors,
 And the class will take all honors,
 From the start until the finish,
 All the honors in the four years,
 They have spent in seeking wisdom.

As we close this charming story
 Of the freshmen Thirty Fivers,
 We acknowledge all their wisdom,
 All their strength and all their courage.
 We admit that they're unusual,
 That they'll conquer all before them.
 So we close our modest story,
 Trusting that on History's Pages
 You will read their great achievements,
 Which we only dared to hint at
 Fearing that the upper classmen,
 Might lose hope and give up fighting,
 Fighting for the Trojan banner.

AFTER the basketball season had come to a glorious ending, thoughts were turned to the publishing of an annual. Betty MacDonald was selected as editor and Clarence Elliott as business manager. The remainder of the staff, who proved to be efficient and dependable in doing the tasks assigned them, was appointed and the work of the annual was begun.

Mr. Hooker, who so capably filled the position as faculty advisor last year, was again selected to help this year's staff.

The Trojans had given us our first State Championship title. Not only did we dedicate this book to Hooker and the team, but we have tried to make that championship the key-note of our entire annual. To create this impression we have used the victory shield as a background for our division pages.

Editors, business managers, typists, proof readers, and all have worked diligently to make this annual as interesting as the ones published in previous years. We hope that you will enjoy reading it and will treasure it as a valuable remembrance of your high school days.

THE PHOENIX

FIRST SEMESTER

THE PHOENIX is a weekly paper of the Newcastle High School, written and managed by the members of the Journalism 32A class with Mr. Greenstreet as faculty advisor. The paper is composed of four pages of five columns, in which is published the activities of the school and includes feature articles, sports items, society notes, exchange items, editorials, humor, and advertisements by local merchants. All illustrations for the paper are made by members of the staff who are appointed as art editors.

THE PHOENIX is a member of the Indiana High School Press Association, and delegates attend the annual convention held by this association at Franklin, Indiana. It is also a member of the Quill and Scroll.

Dorris McKee very capably filled the office of editor-in-chief for the first semester of this year's PHOENIX, and conducted a very successful paper. The office of business manager was well taken care of by Harold Hickman.

During the semester twelve issues were published, including a special issue of eight pages for Christmas and one issue published by the Journalism 31A class with Le Grove Miller acting as special editor-in-chief.

Ten members of the staff attended a conference held at Franklin, Indiana, by the Indiana High School Press Association.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL was organized in N. H. S. in '25, making our school among the first in this state to have student government. Each year the Council is busy trying in every way to raise the standards of N. H. S., and this year it has kept up its efforts.

The class of '24 left two hundred eighty-six dollars to the school, the interest of which was to be awarded each year to a deserving student. Committees were appointed by the Council to investigate the qualifications to receive the award. They presented their material in various ways to the students, so that they might better understand it and have something to work for.

A committee was also appointed to write to all colleges, that offered scholarships to the students of N. H. S. to obtain available matter, in order to present it to the student body.

December 8th of this year, the Council sponsored, with the co-operation of the faculty, a Student Day, which gave very satisfactory results.

The Student Council acts as a medium between the students and the faculty. Two representatives are elected from each session room to serve on the Council. It is now working on several improvements which they hope to give a trial next semester.

Mr. Jones is the faculty advisor of the club.

The membership for both semesters is as follows: Margaret Barnard, Frederick Blum, Charles Bolinger, Ruth Cowan, Carrie Duckworth, Betty Elmore, Harold Hickman, Emma Holtsclaw, Earl Fribley, Mary E. Kennedy, Gene Locker, Betty MacDonald, Noble McGinnis, Helen Pickering, Madonna Mullinex, Margaret Richey, Emmett Smith, Robert Trout, John Trout, Billy Thoman, Vivian Wilkinson, Maxine Wheat, Mildred Todd, Ellen Jane Davis, Vernon Huffman, Juanita Kepner, Charles McDorman, Jane Patrick, Roland Selke, William Smith, Melvin Yost.

SCIENCE SOCIETY

- President - - - - - Clay Orchard
- Vice-President - - - - - Gerald Bond
- Secretary - - - - - Valetta Kirby
- Treasurer - - - - - Clarence Elliott

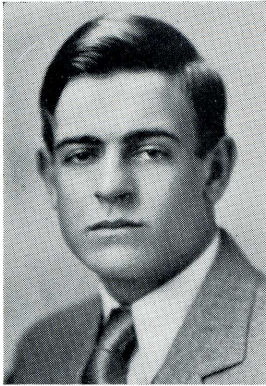

THE SCIENCE SOCIETY for this school year was organized early in the first semester, and with the aid of the faculty sponsors, Mr. Bronson, Mr. Hodson, Mr. Gross, Mr. Jones, Miss F. Hodson, Miss Pinnick, Mr. Harrell, and Mr. Logan, the club was functioning within a short time. Although not as active during the last semester as some former societies, the meetings were well worthwhile and Room 315 was filled to capacity at every meeting.

Able speakers, and particularly doctors of the town and community, delivered very instructive talks upon various topics of interest. Several members of the faculty were also called upon to take a part in some of the programs. Mr. Greenstreet's talk on non-Euclidian Geometry was one of the most interesting of these talks.

Probably a great deal of the benefits of these meetings enjoyed by the members came from doctors of the community. A great many interesting facts and experiences in the practice of medicine were related.

To create an interest in scientific problems of the present day has always been the purpose of this club, and this year's membership has endeavored to carry on in this line.

By increasing the membership and by continuing in the path which has been marked by this and previous societies, future students of this school may accomplish a great deal in the field of Science.

Charles McDorman Jr.

PUBLIC SPEAKING DEPARTMENT

CHARLES McDORMAN JR. brought to N. H. S. its second championship of the school year. At Earlham College, April 22, the local entrant, using as his subject, "The Citizen, His Privileges and Duties Under the Constitution," defeated five speakers, thereby gaining the distinction of Indiana's foremost high school orator.

Miss Margaret Bryan

Miss Margaret Bryan, head of the Public Speaking Department since 1929, has turned out two state winners, Tom Milliken winning in 1929. To her should be given much credit.

At no time in the history of Newcastle High School has there been so much enthusiasm for the public speaking contests as was displayed this year. This enthusiasm was not only evident in the large number of entrants in the contests, but it was registered also by the large number of people attending them.

Winners of the two elimination contests were Charles McDorman, Jr., Jean Krenzer, Roland Selke, Richard Bender, Gene Wallace, and Ruth Reece. These six speakers competed in the final contest which was won by Charles McDorman, Jr.

The subject for the Discussion League, which was sponsored by Indiana University, was "Compulsory Unemployment Insurance." The winners of the two elimination contests were Gerald Bond, Ruth Reece, Clarence Elliott, and Jean Krenzer. The final contest was won by Gerald Bond.

The County Contest was held in the Henry County Court House on February 19, 1932. At this time our representative defeated contestants from Knightstown and Straughn.

The District Contest was also held in the Henry County Court House. Eight contestants were entered. McDorman again displayed his ability as a speaker and decisively defeated his opponents. At this time he was awarded the medal for winning the County Contest.

First row: Charles Shirk, Violet Hopper, Virginia Trobaugh, Jean Krenzer, Gene Wallace.

Second row: Clarence Elliott, Ruth Reece, Miss Bryan, Margaret Barnard, Elva Jones.

Third row: Bill Clift, Fred Bavender, Edith Riske, Bill Thoman, Roland Selke, Gerald Bond.

THE year of 1932 was a banner year for the Leatherlungs one of the outstanding boy's clubs of N. H. S.

The club had their first meeting in the fall of 1931, and under the able leadership of Mr. Hodson and Mr. Harrell launched a booster campaign, the object of which was to back all forms of athletics in the school. To further this motive the organization sold tire covers, handbooks, booster cards, and other such articles. The proceeds of these were to be used in giving a banquet and dance later in the year.

The officers for the new year are Chas. Bolinger, Pres., Duane Hall, Vice-Pres., George Wittenbeck, Secy. and Treas., and Mr. Leslie and Mr. Fessler, Sponsors.

CLASS PLAY

AN entirely new type of collegiate play, "The Three Graces", was given by the large cast of forty members representing the senior class of 1932.

The scene opens with a unique and varied prologue typifying campus life. We first get a glimpse of the faculty members in caps and gowns discoursing in a very intellectual manner; they are followed by the "campus cases" who represent gaiety of college life. A large chorus of men not only typify all phases of their university careers but they also do honor to all leading colleges of our state in a popular song hit "Are We Collegiate." A lively chorus of girls sing our own State University song in a beautiful costume act dedicated to I. U.

THE NEWCASTLE SENIOR HI-Y club is sponsored by the high school and the Y. M. C. A. This organization was first formed in 1927 under the leadership of Malcom Edwards, faculty advisor, and C. H. Hengst, Y. M. C. A. boys' work secretary.

The membership of this club when first formed was only fifteen and at the present time there are approximately fifty members. Any boy in high school of good character and above the ranking of a freshman is eligible for membership.

This year the club has not devoted its time to any particular line but has touched each phase of its four-fold purpose: physical, social, intellectual, and spiritual. The outstanding features of the club this year were: the creating of a Gospel team which is under the leadership of Rev. H. L. Beeman; the annual basket-ball tournament held during Christmas holidays; the Mother and Son banquet held near the end of the year; and the presenting of roses to the mothers of our famous Trojans.

The club was very instrumental in bringing the Older Boys' Conference to Newcastle next year. The club will play a large part in entertaining the visitors during their visit to the City of Roses.

Purpose: To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character.

- Corresponding Secretary - - - - - Mattie June Lawless

THE FOREIGN RELATIONS CLUB, which is a comparatively new organization in our high school, has carried on some very interesting and profitable studies during the last year. Miss Feryl Sipe is the faculty sponsor of the club and her able guidance is largely responsible for the success of the club. The main objective of the club is to promote a better understanding of the attitudes, ideals, and problems of the peoples of the other nations.

The club was very fortunate in securing some well-informed speakers during the year. Mrs. A. R. Smith gave a highly instructive talk on France. Mrs. Smith who was born in France and received a large part of her education in that country, gave the students a vivid picture of the true condition of the French people. Mr. Paul Benson, an attorney who lived in Cuba for a number of years, related to the club many of his experiences and observations concerning this island. At another meeting Prof. George Bronson deeply impressed the club members with his talk on "Chemical Warfare." Mr. William Jones also gave the group an enjoyable discussion of some of the recent books on the solutions of the most pressing international problems and other closely related subjects.

Seniors in the club are: Valetta Kirby, Mary Jane DeWitt, Gerald Bond, Frederick Bavender, Clarence Elliott, Clay Orchard, Melvin Yost, and Joseph Weiland. Although these seniors will be greatly missed, the prospects for next year's organization are bright. The club has been a trial in many respects, but, due to Miss Sipe's untiring efforts and the co-operation of the membership, it promises to become one of the permanent organizations of our school.

Sitting: Elizabeth Lemmon, Mary Helen Valentine, Frances Bentley, Mary Pickett, Margaret Alice Riley, Barbara Baker, Jeanette Messick, Helen Evans, Vivian Jones, Maxine Morse, Maryella Bogue, Doris Myers, Alberta Harrel, Nell May Duffey, Mary F. ### GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

THE response to Miss May Dorsey's annual call for girls to sing in the Newcastle Senior High School Girls' Glee Club was somewhat larger than usual this year. This group of girls, under the competent instruction of Miss Dorsey, head of the music department, has had a very successful year.

On May 4, the Glee Club participated in the annual Music Festival at Ball State Teachers' College in Muncie and very creditably represented our high school. The Glee Club made its second public appearance at Baccalaureate Services.

Much of the credit for the success of the club is due to the services of its efficient accompanist, Betty Elmore. The club is also grateful to Madonna Mullenix, who assisted on the violin in some of the numbers.

Some of the interesting and beautiful selections which the girls studied this year were: "By My Window" by Paul Bliss, "Come to the Fair," by Easthope Martin, "The Minstrel," by Engen Hildach, and "When Twilight Comes" by Edwin Vaile McIntyre.

Any girl in High School is eligible for membership in the glee club. Most girls who are interested in music find the work both interesting and pleasant. The club meets for rehearsal every Thursday evening at 3:17 in room 101. One-tenth credit is given for each semester's work, and an additional one-tenth credit is given for each public appearance which the club makes.

Miss Dorsey has so trained the Junior High School Glee Club that it has proved a great aid in the development of the Senior High School Club. As the girls come into Senior High School they are much better fitted to take up the work in the Senior High School Glee Club because of their experience received in Junior High School. Several of the freshmen who entered High School last fall had had experience in the Junior High School Glee Club which enabled them to take up the work in the Senior High School organization with very little difficulty.

ORCHESTRA

FROM all appearances, and sounds, too, "Gabriel" will have a large number of capable assistants. The Newcastle High School Orchestra meets every Wednesday afternoon, during the eighth period, in room 101, under the supervision of Miss Mae Dorsey, head of the music and art department.

Miss Madonna Mullinix, violinist, represented Newcastle High School in the National High School Orchestra, which appeared before the National Conference of Music Supervisors in Cleveland, Ohio, during the first week of April.

For the past two years the orchestra has taken part in the Annual Music Festival at Ball State Teachers College in Muncie. The orchestra plays annually for the Class Day, Class Play, and Commencement Exercises.

Members of the orchestra and the instruments they play are as follow:

VIOLIN—Madonna Mullinix, Laila D. Basicker, Nell Lunsford, Dorothy Morrell, Marjorie Pierce, Florence Ryneerson, Jonathan Stamm, Gordon Barrett, Paul Hastings, Vernon Hill, Loring Lorton, and George Whittenbeck.	CLARINET—Fred Davis.
CELLO—Lois Mullinix.	TRUMPET—Harold Loer.
MARIMBA—Eugene Teeter.	CORNET—Robert Markley.
TROMBONE—Richard Shock, Virgil McClain, and Joseph Conley.	SAXAPHONE—Thelma Steffy, Gayle Duckworth, and Paul White.
	TUBA—Sylvester Tower.
	EB ALTO HORN—Della Mae Brenneman, Margaret Alice Riley.

THE LIBRARY

NEWCASTLE HIGH SCHOOL had no organized library until three years ago. At that time, Miss Feryl Sipe installed our present library. The books were accessioned, catalogued, and classified according to the Dewey Decimal Classification. This system of classification makes it very easy for the students to obtain material for their outside work.

At the first of every semester the library conducts a second-hand book store. A fee of five cents is charged for every book sold. Out of this fund the library is able to buy supplies. This semester one hundred and fifty books and a vertical file were bought. The file will provide an excellent place to preserve interesting pictures, newspaper articles and pamphlets.

The number of books and volumes of encyclopaedias have been increased greatly since the installment of the library. This year four hundred twenty books have been added. Some of the people who have donated to the number are Mr. E. J. Llewelyn, Mr. R. H. Valentine, Miss Clara Westhafer, and Mr. Julius P. Molen. In addition to this number of new books, about eighty gift books have been received from former graduating classes.

Students have an access to several of the leading magazines in the library. The magazines are on various subjects including health, history, industrial arts, language, and science. These magazines are purchased by the teachers and then turned over to the library.

Miss Sipe, acting as supervisor, appoints students to be librarians for certain periods. The duties of the student librarians are to read shelves, take the roll, find references, help take the inventory, and keep the library in general order. A few teachers, instead of being assigned to a study hall, are assigned to the library. The teachers who have helped during the last year are Miss Fern Hodson, Miss Pinnick, Miss Clifford, Mrs. Rogers, and Miss Sipe.

The library has made great progress during these three years, and we hope that it will be a greater success in the years to come.

ATHLETICS

COACHES

HOOKER

Newcastle High School is fortunate in having one of the most capable and well-known men in the state at the head of its athletic department, Orville J. Hooker.

This season saw one of Hooker's most cherished dreams realized—that of coaching a state champion basketball team. He led his charges through twenty-one hard games, winning seventeen of them, and then displayed his true genius by piloting the Trudgers to their first state championship.

HOOKER

ALLEN

Much of the athletic success in the past two years has been due to the assistance given Hooker by a former athlete of N. H. S., Wilbur "Strings" Allen, the Mayor of Mt. Summit. Allen has worked diligently with the Trojan Colts, and the prospects they furnish for next season are quite gratifying.

HARRELL

Glenn Harrell is the person who takes charge of tennis in N. H. S. and proceeds to repair the courts, supervise tourneys, arrange schedules, regulate playing hours, instruct those new to the game, and make himself generally useful to tennis enthusiasts of the school.

BAKER

The newest addition to the Newcastle coaching staff is Maurice Baker, a former Trojan and football star. Baker's official duties as an assistant coach are to assist Hooker in coaching the varsity football squad, and to take complete charge of the freshman team.

GOAR

Track was somewhat neglected this year, but Fred Goar, track coach, spent his time preparing for next year. During the last eight years, Goar has changed track from a back-lot pastime to a major sport.

BASKETBALL

THE basketball season of 1931-32 was the greatest in the history of N. H. S. Beginning the schedule with a group of veterans, the Trojans conquered one team after another with almost machine-like precision to win twenty-seven of thirty-one games played.

At the conclusion of the scheduled season, the team went about the task making a credible showing in the tourneys. The Trojans captured Sectional honors without much trouble, although the competition here was unusually strong. Then came the historical Regional Tournament at Muncie. The strong Bearcat aggregation and the Mighty Trojans forces tangled in the Muncie Field House in a battle of wits and goal tossing that has been labeled by many experts as the most thrilling and finished exhibition of basketball they ever witnessed. The score was tied an innumerable amount of times until, in the final minutes the Magic City boys began to pull slowly away to what seemed to be a comfortable margin, 19 to 16, with less than two minutes to play. Newcastle was not to be daunted, however, even in the face of certain defeat, and as the Muncie boys held the ball in their own territory, Newcastle players swarmed all over them and took the sphere into their own possession. Billy Thoman, the Junior forward, scored two wonderful shots from the field in quick succession to win the battle-royal for the Trojans. The first of these shots was made from under the hoop, and the last was propelled from slightly past the center circle, and was still in the air when the final gun sounded. Every member of the Trojan combination was outstanding in his position. Newcastle received another thrill that night against Winchester, but finally finished first, 15-13.

COUNTY CHAMPIONS

It was in the state tourney that the Newcastle team displayed her seasoned experience twenty-six, and twenty-four points per game respectively, the Trudgers showed themselves to be the most consistent team in the tourney.

The crowning of the champion and the presentation of the trophy to Hooker's crew met with unanimous approval of fans, because everyone was sure that the best team and best coach in Indiana had won.

THE TEAM MEMBERS

VERNON HUFFMAN, a Senior, has for three years been one of the most outstanding guards in the state. Besides tending his own goal unceasingly, he has been one of the leading scorers. Vernon received unanimous selection this year as an all-state back-guard. While he has been outstanding in dozens of games, perhaps his greatest performances came in the Muncie regional game and the final game of the State against Winamac. "Huffie" will certainly be missed next year, and boosters are sure to remember Newcastle's smiling backguard for years.

DALE DAKINS, the running-mate to "Huffie." Dale is also a Senior. His consistent and capable play, throughout the three years he has worn the green, is not short of remarkable. Dakins could always be counted upon to "come through" in a tight place. The three tournaments this year proved Dale's real worth as a player. His uncanny eye for the hoop, coupled with his defensive ability, aroused much favorable comment. "Dake" played the entire amount of four games at the State without committing a personal foul. Dale's place will surely be hard to fill.

BOBBY WHITE played almost every position on the team. He was always a member of the first five, but different games called Bobby to perform different duties. His constant fight was one of the most outstanding characteristics of the team. Long shots were Bobby's specialty in the scoring department, but he also counted quite regularly from close in. As a guard, White was "there," and when "Hook" wanted to cover a "hot shot," Bobby received the call. Another player that will be long remembered.

HAROLD HICKMAN, the ball-hawk of the team. "Hickey" followed the ball everywhere it went, and became noted as a bulldog at getting his hands on the leather. As a forward, Hickman also performed commendably. His scoring ability, both from the field and from the foul line, was known and feared by all opponents. His most outstanding performances came in the State Tourney. Harold is also a Senior, another to whom we are sorry to bid good-bye.

BILL THOMAN, the only Junior regular. Billy was one of the leading scorers of the North Central Conference this season. Thoman's favorite position for shooting was the left side of the court, although he often out-ran his guard to score from directly under the basket. Bill will always be held in high esteem by Trojan backers because of those two goals in the last minute of the Muncie Regional Tourney. Thoman will probably have a still greater season next year.

DON WILDMAN, the "sixth man." Don is a nephew of "Strings" Allen, but we cannot blame him for that. He could always be counted upon when a substitution was necessary. A good center or forward, and good on defense, Don saw a great deal of action this year. Being a Senior, Don is leaving us this year, but we shall not forget him.

HOWARD DUNGAN, the boy who made good over night. Howard started the year as a member of the Colt squad, but was promoted to the varsity about mid-season. He was the player who had the task of filling "Huffie's" position at times.

MERRIT KERSEY, a good and dependable forward. "Bud" has played basketball with the Trojans for three years and has always done his part. He will probably be longest remembered for the field goal that beat Muncie in 1929 for the first time in seven years.

MID DAY, Newcastle's pint-size forward. "Heigh-ho, Everybody." Mid was often inserted when a few points in a short time were necessary. He was unusually fast, and had a good eye for the hoop. He always made life miserable for a large opposing guard. Mid is another of our Seniors.

MERRLE SIPPLE, another good guard. "Sip" played part of the season on the Colt squad, but came through late in the year to make the tourney team. He probably played the two best games of his career in the Regional and State tourneys.

THE SECOND TEAM

The Trojan Colts, under Assistant Coach Allen, have made a very commendable showing this season.

Their most outstanding fete of the season was the winning of the Henry County Tourney in January.

FOOTBALL

UNDER the guiding hand of Coach Orville J. Hooker and his assistant, Wilbur Allen, a strong football team was developed. Out of the eight games played, the Trojans won five, piling up one hundred and twenty-five points against fifty-six by their opponents.

The game with Connersville was one of the most exciting games of the season, as only one point decided the victory. Also, the Kokomo game was very interesting, and the students and fans will never forget the wonderful playing led by Captain Bob White. The plunging and passing was almost perfect.

The week before school started, a football camp was established in Idlewold Park near Pendleton. Hard workouts were had every morning and afternoon. This did much in the developing of the team.

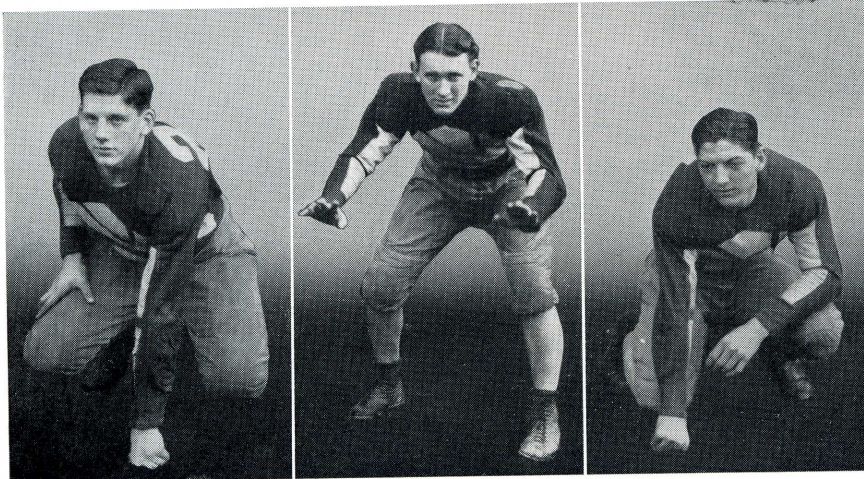

The team next year will be built from experienced players, some of whom are Dyer, Livezy, Hiatt, Krausbauer, Baker, Murray, and Fribley.

HATHAWAY KRAUSBAUER — Our triple-threat man (stumble, fumble, and fall), has two years to play for N. H. S.

ROBERT WHITE — "Bobby" was captain of the team, and one of the out-standing quarterbacks in the state.

DALE DAKINS — A real ball carrier, and never in a slump.

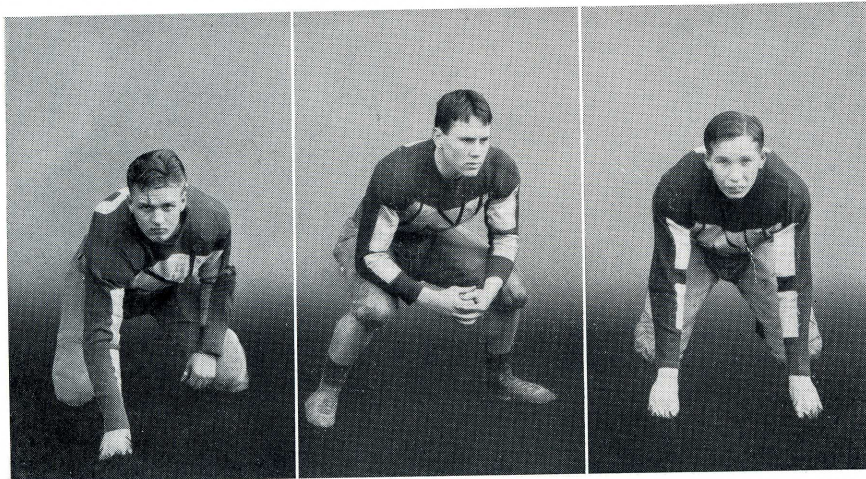

NILES LIVEZY — A big center with plenty of power. The line, next year, will be built around him.

HOWARD WHITE — "Whitie" has red hair and, when he gets his head set, watch out, opponents!

HAROLD HICKMAN — None are too tough for "Hickie." A guard with plenty of pep and determination. "Hickie" is a senior.

SIDNEY BAKER — "Mayor" is an end, with another year to show his ability.

PAUL MURRAY — Big, powerful, but slow. Murray has a fine chance to make good next year.

DERONDA CARPENTER—Carpenter, a halfback substitute who will have his chance next year.

LEROY HIATT — A good end, and he has plenty of chance for more laurels, as he has two more years.

EDWARD DYER — A little guard, with two years to go. "Valuable things are done up in small packages."

HOWARD DUNGAN — A sophomore we are depending upon.

GENE VAN HOOSE — Little but mighty, so what more?

CHARLES SHIRK — "Mackie," the Great

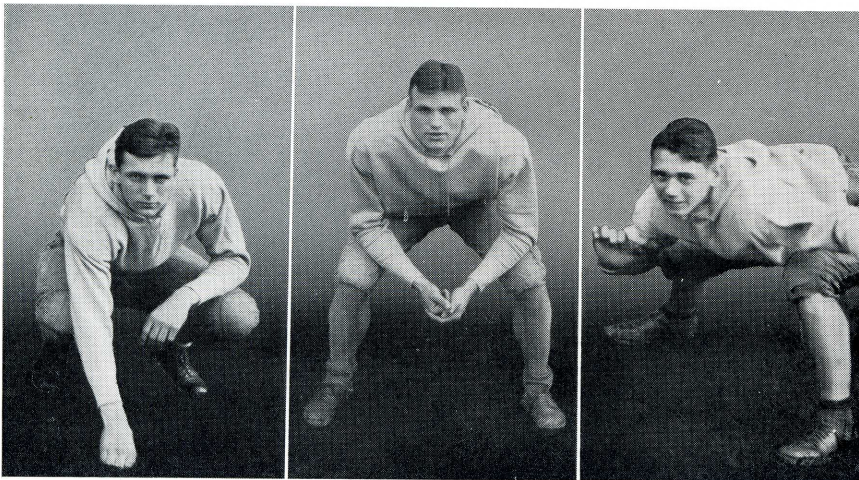

(Shirk). We knoweth not what he is worth!

VERNON HUFFMAN — A real player in any position. Vernon has ability, brains, and physique for the real athlete he is.

RICHARD MANNING — A halfback whom we will depend upon next year.

"MID" DAY — Small, but mighty — and a person you could depend upon for a needed yard.

RANDALL LAWSON — A good, fast-driving fullback, who never knows when to quit fighting. He was injured early in the season.

Dungan, tackle

Lawson, fullback

Huffman, end

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

FRIENDS AND CLASSMATES:

We, the students of the largest graduating class in the history of the Newcastle High School, are preparing to leave with the hope that our work has been well done, and that our accomplishments have been worth while.

We are graduating in a time of depression and unemployment when competition is the keenest. Under such conditions the need of an education is most essential and important. A high school education is most necessary in that it gives a foundation upon which we can build.

It is to you, the citizens of Newcastle, the teachers and parents, that we are indebted for such a "golden opportunity."

We wish to extend our greatest gratitude to the citizens of our community who by the means of paying taxes have made possible for us a wonderful high school and a capable group of teachers, so that we might go out into the world prepared to carry on the work laid out for us.

To the teachers of Newcastle High School we wish to express our appreciation for the undivided attention they have given to us in preparing us for future life.

We cannot express enough love, devotion, and gratitude to our parents who have sacrificed their time and money year after year, in order that we might get an education. We realize it has not been easy to send us through school in a time of such financial disorder.

For your own good, Under Classmen, we sincerely hope that you will take advantage of this wonderful opportunity that is being offered you.

Your high school course offers you a chance for leadership. The majority of the future leaders in big business and finance will be those who have taken advantage of a high school education. It also affords you an opportunity to make many friends that in the years to come shall prove to be invaluable to you. Your four short years in high school will instill in you a spirit and character that are everlasting. At times your school work may seem difficult and even worthless, but by perseverance and persistence you can overcome these obstacles. In later life you will realize the value of your education.

Class of '32, we can only show our appreciation for such a wonderful opportunity and such useful aid by putting forth every effort to accomplish greater deeds and to make our country a better place in which to live.

Classmates, we are about to set out on our walks of life. The path will not be easy. We shall meet with many temptations and shall encounter many perplexing problems, but if we use the foundation we have, and carry on with the courage and determination expressed in our Class Motto, "Find a place or make one," we are sure to succeed in life.

VERNON HUFFMAN.

CLASS HISTORY

THREE years and nine months ago our fathers brought to this school a new class, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all students are created equal.

Soon we engaged in a great war; testing whether that class, or any class so conceived and so dedicated could long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come here to review our deeds and to extoll our virtues before the public.

One hundred seventy-seven Freshmen entered the sacred halls of N. H. S. one fine September morning in 1928. That was indeed a fortunate occurrence for the City of Roses, because with the entrance of those seemingly green and insignificant Freshmen, came the most successful and famous period of scholastic achievement on record. We were, of course, forced to tolerate the outrages brought upon us by a certain type of beings known as the Sophomore Class, but we bore it with a smile and thus won favor throughout the school for our patience and broad-mindedness.

Our class did not wait two or three years before it began to make its presence felt, as has been the custom of other classes, but we began immediately to push forward. Several of our classmates played on the football teams, while many of our boys went immediately into the Leather Lungs. Girls of the class of 1932 also came before the eyes of the school when many of them joined the Pep'ers and Girls' Glee Club. Basketball also received some attention from several of our class members.

After a short vacation, we returned to school as Sophomores, one hundred sixty strong. It was then evident that we had picked up some interesting tricks in our Freshman year. The new class that entered school during our second year, the group of students who hope to graduate in 1933, undoubtedly remember the reception given them upon their arrival. In fact, our efforts to make life interesting for them often led them to believe we were somewhat over-anxious about their entertainment, but we were only striving in our small way to endow them with the rites, deserved by Freshmen.

During that second year we began to come into our own, and display our true power. Members of this class were found in every school activity. The Girls' Glee Club, the high School orchestra, the Pep'ers, the Leather Lungs, the Hi-Y Club, the Senate, the Foreign Relations Club, the Science Society, the Dramatic Club, the Student Council, and the athletic teams all enjoyed the pleasures of association with our class members. It was during that year that the faculty realized how fortunate it was to have such outstanding students for pupils. Vacation was next on the program.

When fishing tackles, tennis rackets, bathing suits, and other signs of summer had been stored away, we started our Junior year with a membership of one hundred fifty-four students. When students become Juniors, it is expected that they shall begin to take the leadership in various activities, and our members fulfilled these expectations to a most unusual degree. Joe Chew and Roland Selke were elected president and secretary of the Hi-Y. Elva Jones was chosen as recording secretary of the Foreign Relations Club. The Pep'ers selected Mary Bunch as vice-president, and Dorris McKee secretary-treasurer. Several students became popular in public speaking. The orchestra, the Girls' Glee Club, and the Student Council had many of our students on the roll. That year saw the second consecutive undefeated football season for N. H. S., and we are justly proud that many of our representatives were to be found on this squad.

CLASS HISTORY (continued)

The Junior Prom given by the Class of 1932 will be remembered for many years. Approximately seven hundred guests were successfully entertained. We are certain the Seniors we entertained looked upon us with much respect after the party we gave them. It undoubtedly made them feel more or less repentant for the deplorable manner in which they had treated us when we were defenseless Freshmen.

These events, in brief, constituted the third year.

Seniors are always the best students in a high school, but the Class of 1932 has been the most outstanding of famous Senior Classes. The leaders in every activity were members of this great class. Having a membership of one hundred forty-eight students, we are the largest class ever to issue forth from the portals of the local school. In addition to this, we are probably the largest class to be graduated from here for several years. If our class had not been large, however, we would still have been the most outstanding, because in addition to possessing quantity, we also have that other rare characteristic, quality. We are fully aware of the fact that we have done more than any other one group to make this school year successful, and to be still more individual, we admit it.

The Pep'ers, in their first meeting of the year, selected Dorris McKee as president. Frank Cofield was elected president of the Leather Lungs. The Hi-Y selected Gerald Bond and Gene Locker as president and treasurer. Gerald Bond was also elected president of the Foreign Relations Club and vice-president of the Science Society.

Dorris McKee was appointed Editor-in-Chief of the first semester Phoenix. Harold Hickman served as business manager. Mildred Gann and Robert Trout also Seniors, were appointed as Editor-in-Chief and business manager of the second semester Phoenix.

The Rosennial staff was appointed late in the year, and although the staff had a very short time in which to prepare the material, the annual has been adjudged by some as the best ever published in Newcastle high school. Betty MacDonald was editor-in-chief and Clarence Elliott was business manager.

The Class of 1932 organized during the second semester. Class officers, selected by unanimous vote are: Vernon Huffman, president; Harold Hickman, vice-president; Thelma Kendall, secretary; Donald Wildman, treasurer.

Several Seniors, including Melvin Yost, Clarence Elliott, Elva Jones, Roland Selke, Joe Futrell, Joe Thomas, Charles McDorman, Violet Hopper, Gerald Bond, Edith Risk, Frederick Bavender, and Richard Bender gained widespread repute in the public speaking department. Charles McDorman and Gerald Bond, however, were the most outstanding of this group. Charles represented our school in the various oratorical contests, and Gerald was our representative in the Discussion League contests.

The senior Play is always a success in Newcastle, and this year was no exception. The cast presented "The Three Graces" under the direction of Miss Pinnick.

The department of athletics has been the most successful school activity during the past year. Football was entirely as well-cared for as usual, although the team did lose several games. Bobby White, Mid Day, Vernon Huffman, Randall Lawson, Gene Locker, Robert Criss, Howard White, Harold Hickman, and John Hedges have played a great deal of football in N. H. S. They are all Seniors.

CLASS HISTORY (concluded)

For the first time in history, the Trojans won the Indiana High School Basket Championship. Vernon Huffman, Dale Dakins, Harold Hickman, Bobby White, Don Wildman, Merle Sipple, Mid Day, and Randall Lawson, eight of the first eleven, are Seniors and will not be back next year. We are indeed proud that our class was so largely responsible for the winning of this title. Everyone of the first five were mentioned on all-state teams.

Tennis has also received good treatment from our class. Gene Locker and Don Wildman won the Big Ten championship last spring.

Many have been the virtues and accomplishments of the Class of 1932 — far too many to be listed in the brief time and space allotted to us here. As was previously stated, we have come here to praise our members for their accomplishments, but in a larger sense, we can not do a great deal towards making these achievements more praiseworthy. The members of this class have endeared themselves to the public far beyond our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note what is said here, but we can never forget what the Class of 1932 did. This is an excellent opportunity for the under-graduates to dedicate themselves to that cause for which we fought and so nobly advanced — a better high school. We ask them to dedicate themselves with increased devotion to that cause for which we gave so much devotion — we ask them to resolve that our efforts shall not have been in vain; that this school, under Valentine and Llewelyn, shall have a new birth of scholarship; that government of the students, by the students, and for the students shall not perish from the school.

RICHARD N. BENDER.

CLASS SONG

I.

Our hi-school days have meant a lot,
We've learned to love the dear old spot.
The scene of many joys and tears,
Where we have spent four happy years.
Our colors are the green and white
They show the zeal, they show the fight.
We aim to make thru peace or strife
To win a place for each in life.

II.

Our hi-school is a happy place
Each class room and each student's face
Will be, as we look back and see
Naught but a tender memory.
Our days in hi-school soon will end
For each, there's a task to do
Then take it up, we're sure to win
If we'll Find a way or Make one.

CHORUS

Here's to our classmates.
And here's to all our teachers too.
Here's to our colors
Here's to our motto tried and true.
Now as we bid you
And all our hi-school days adieu.
Farewell New Castle High School
We say farewell to you.

Words — LOUISE BRENNKE
Music — EDWIN NALE

CLASS PROPHECY

"Emmalyne."

"Well, if it isn't Valetta Kirby. What are you doing here?"

"I'm private secretary to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and I'm now on my vacation, so I came to Newcastle to spend a few days. How are you, and what are you doing here?"

"I am well, thank you. I married, the year after my graduation, and still live here. By the way, won't you come down and spend the afternoon and evening with me? We could talk over old times."

"Thanks, I would be glad to as I have no appointments for the rest of the day."

"Whatever became of your old friend Alice Cassidy, do you ever hear from her?"

"Yes, quite often. She, Dorothy Buggle, and Mary Erickson are dress models in Edith Wiehmeyer's Fifth Avenue Shoppe in New York. Bobbie White is also in New York. He is a successful banker, and I hear that Harold Hickman and John Hedges are Wall Street Brokers. Did you ever hear what became of our class president?"

"Why, Vernon, Randall Lawson, and Robert Criss are starred in Howard White's 'Scandals of 1950,' and our class treasurer, Donald Wildman, and Joseph Weiland and Melvin Yost, all graduates of Notre Dame, are successful football coaches in South Africa. Where is Mildred Gann? I haven't heard from her in years."

"Mildred is sole owner of the Guarantee Lipstick Manufacturing Company in Milwaukee, and three of her lipstick testers are Jewel Owens, Florence Circle, and Maxine Green. Oh, yes, Anna Claire Koons' and Juanita Kepner's greatest dream has been realized, for they have become the world's champion yo-yoers and neither can out-do the other. I wonder what has become of Thelma Kendall?"

"Thelma and Lois Mills are expert nurses in Joe Ratcliff's Cat and Dog Hospital. Gerald Bond and Frederick Bavender have startled the world of science with their new invention which is a non-skid banana peeling." "And say, I was in Lexington, Kentucky a few weeks ago and I saw Charles Wisheart. He owns a string of race horses and, would you believe it, he employs only girl jockeys, some of which are Margaret Richey, Margaret Shopp, Eileen Rife McSherley, and Mildred Evans. Do you remember Delbert Mogle who came to our school for his senior year?"

"Delbert, Reginald Chambers, Ralph Hays, and Dalton Folger are employed as call boys in one of Chicago's leading theaters and it is rumored around that they have a sham battle to see which one gets the job when one of them is to call the chorus girls. Some of the girls are Marjorie Ross, Mary Warnock, Nell Lunsford, Elizabeth Koon, Inez Jacobs, Esther Hanning, Dorothy Bailey, Dora Beard, Dora Conley, and Thelma Steffy. Emmalyne, did you ever hear what became of Mary Jane DeWitt?"

"Mary Jane is taking in washings to help her husband, John Kepner, who is chief street cleaner of Detroit, Michigan. His chief assistants are Carroll McClish and Le-Grove Miller. Did you know that Jane Armstrong has never married, and is a matron in an orphanage? Some of her worthy helpers are Mary Alicia Clinton, Ruth Stinson, Louise Murray, and Jeanne Monroe."

"That just reminds me, do you ever listen to the Kitchen Cabinet Orchestra, Advertisers of the Sure-Hit Rolling Pin Company, which broadcasts daily over station WLW?"

"No, I don't believe I have ever heard it. Are any of the class in it?"

"Yes, I stopped there on my way here and saw Laila Denise Basicker. She is the first violinist and Beatrice Richardson is the second violinist, using long handled corn poppers for instruments. Clarence Freeman is the drummer of the outfit and it is surprising the effect he can get out of his dishpan; Earl Griffith is the dapper banjoist and uses his grandmother's frying pan for his banjo. Violet Hopper looks very picturesque as she waves her huge meat fork in direction of this harmonious group."

"Say, what became of the two Catt girls?"

"Marguerite and Ruth Catt are known as the Kitten Sisters and are often heard in every Locker Five and Ten Cent Store. I read in the Seattle Times not long ago that Martha and Gene Locker are the wealthiest people in the United States, and have an annual income of nine million dollars. It is said that Paul Mayer, the U. S. Income Tax Collector, receives enough from them alone to keep the President and members of the House in cigars during each session of Congress. Do you ever come across any of the old Phoenix Staff?"

"Well, Richard Bender and Ruthelaine Peele are editors of the Daily Blab of Punkintown, Indiana, and Clarence Elliott has just completed a newer edition to Magruder's History. I believe Mary Lu McLeod is writing a column in the Mount Summit Daily on Advice to the Lovelorn, and by the way her manager is Charles Vernon Davis, both at work and at home. Did you ever hear what became of Dale Dakins?"

"Oh, Dale is the Governor of Egypt and his latest undertaking is trying to teach the game of marbles to the natives, as they think football is too rough. Alta Guiling and Thelma Hiers are in Africa. They are teaching French in the Sahara Desert. Imogene Brewer, Mildred Robson, and Josephine Dailey are in Europe. They are cheese inspectors in Hullman Reed's Limberger Cheese Factory in Germany. Did you ever hear what became of Jane Patrick and Mary Bunch and some others of that crowd who were always together?"

"Jane has just been declared the winner of a bathing beauty contest and is now 'Miss Cadiz.' She is to go into the movies as soon as she returns from her tour around the world. Mary Bunch, Elsie Duva, and Emma Holtsclaw have obtained fame as the world's greatest women detectives, as they always get their man."

"Betty MacDonald, tired of just waiting, has established an interesting home for Modern Old Maids. Some of her recent victims are Naomi Emmert, Ellen Jane Davis, and Betty Swain. It is said that Helen Beer and Adrian Chew are still single, waiting for some out-of-town hero. I just knew they would wait too long. What became of some of the boys in our class?"

"I read in a recent Cincinnati Post that Frederick Cluggish, Frank Cofield, Roland Selke, and Carlyle Ward are still seniors in college. They are now at the University of Kentucky, located at Sticksburg. Ray Baase, Joe Futrell, and Robert Allen have established a hot dog stand in Nome, Alaska, and I hear that they have a barking business."

"Donald Reece is a very successful lawyer. He recently handled a case for Elva Jones, who was suing Clay Orchard for breach of promise. The lawyers for the defendant were Wilford Padgett and Walter Pfenninger, and some of the members of the jury were Howard Marshall, Judson Johnson, Gordon Barrett, Iris Buck, Dorothy Mayne, and Eva Sommerville. The judge for the case was Howard Rothrock. I don't know what became of Marion Bilby."

"Oh, Marion, you remember, always did like girls much younger than himself, so at forty-five he is director of the girls in Ziegfield's Follies. Some of the girls are Mildred Peyton, Mildred Todd, Edith Risk, Maxine Gray, Helen Malcom, and Martha Stewart, who are the 'Edna Wallace Hoppers' of today. And you remember how simple Elizabeth Wright used to be? Well, since Marie Dressler's death, she has been trying to take her place and has succeeded to a great extent. Her first picture was in New York when I left. Edwin Nale, still the passionate lover, is a second Charles Rogers. Do you ever hear from Esther Williams?"

"Esther and Arel Wood are noted in this part of the country for their great flying ability. They are soon to start a non-stop flight across Memorial Park Lake. Did you ever read in the papers that Dolores Nicholson and Thelma O'Dell have just swum the English Channel, and Thelma won second place. Say, whatever became of William Smith and Donnis Bennett?"

"Oh, they are in New York. I see them quite often. Bill and Donnis, and Paul Cowan and Waneta Werling are married and living in the West Apartments. The apartments are owned and operated by Pauline and Louise West, and are about the most exclusive apartments in the city. The Smiths and Cowans occupy a whole suite on the seventy-fifth floor. That crowd always was air-minded. I see in the papers that Joe Chew, Charles McDorman, and Wilson Shopp are working for the Government."

"Yes, they are helping to dig a ditch from Indianapolis to Lake Michigan for the construction of the new canal that is to be built. Did you know that Floyd Howard and Myron Steffy are traveling salesmen for the Cecil Torrence Toothpick Manufacturing Company? Richard Ellis is the owner of a large dairy farm and his cream tester is no one but Mary Ricks. I saw Louise Brenneke Mastin last week and she told me that she and Dorothy Mae Cable Thomas are teaching school in Spencer County in southern Indiana. They have to work to support their husbands, Thomas Mastin and Joe Thomas. Those boys never would work, even in their high school days. Say, what became of Robert Trout?"

"Oh, Bob has become a famous writer. His new book, 'How to Know Women,' is just off the press and is making a big hit with the public. His two most faithful admirers are Marion Reichart and Charles Shaffer. Did you know that Vivian Wilkinson and Mary Olive Cox are coaches of an all-star girls football team in Peking, China? Some of their American stars are Jessie Browning, Dorris McKee, Mary Edgerton, and Sarah Friddle."

"Valetta, come to the kitchen with me while I prepare dinner for John Meeks and his wife who are coming tonight."

"John Meeks! Who in the world did he marry?"

"He married Carrie Duckworth, and they sure make an ideal couple, too. Stay and meet them. They would love to see you, I know."

CLASS WILL

WE, the seniors of Newcastle High School, in order to gain nothing, establish nothing, insure nothing, provide nothing, promote nothing, and consequently secure nothing for ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this will of the graduating class of nineteen hundred and thirty-two.

Editor's note: Not responsible for lost articles.

Jane Armstrong, Dorothy Bailey, and Laila Denise Basicker, who realize that the days of childhood are past will to Burtus Martin and "Minnie" Reeves one set of mama's apron strings.

Joe Thomas, hoping for more peace and quietude in good old N. H. S. wills his ever perfect behavior to George Dickey.

Gerald Bond, Frederick Bavender, Melvin Yost, and Joseph Weiland will their ability to mix chemicals which create astoundingly pungent odors to Professor George Bronson's next victims.

Robert Allen, Ray Baase, Wilford Padgett, Floyd Howard, Edwin Nale, and Donald Reece, having more money than they know what to do with, have pooled their finances and purchased an accident policy which they leave to Bud Kersey. The policy states that in case "Bud" does graduate in the next ten years, it will be classed as an accident and he will be pensioned for life.

Ellen Jane Davis and Robert Ellsworth White, William Smith and Donnis Bennett will their views on love to other prospective "Ducky-Wuckies."

Dora Beard, Mary Alicia Clinton, Helen Beer, Iris Buck, and Martha Stewart have worked diligently for six weeks to produce a very, very charming table cloth which they will to the mutual hope chest of Feryl and Fred Goar.

Joe Chew wills his recent literary success, entitled, "My Five Year Plan of a High School Course, In Two Nutshells," to the incoming Freshman class.

Dale Dakins, Bob Criss, John Hedges, Harold Hickman, Randall Lawson, Gene Locker, Howard White, and Donald Wildman will their stellar athletic ability to future Trojans.

The beauties of "thirty-two": namely, Juanita Kepner, Violet Hopper, Naomi Emmert, Elsie Duva, Anna Claire Koons, Mary Lu McLeod, Jane Patrick, Mary Bunch, and Ruth Elaine Peele will their marvelous complexions manufactured by magic muc, rouge and lipstick and all that stuff, to Freshman girls who think they are quite the "nertz."

Mildred Gann, John Kepner, Dorris McKee, Elva Jones, Richard Bender, Clarence Elliott, Legrove Miller, Wilson Shopp, and Robert Trout bequeath their pencils and copy paper to Mr. Greenstreet so that he may give them to future Phoenix producers.

Marion Biiby, Paul Mayer, and Charles Wischart regretfully give up their one much used curling iron to two worthy Freshies, "Jimmy" Pitcher and "Garrey" Gross hoping this will aid the little fellows in keeping their hair out of their eyes.

Emma Holtsclaw wills her large delegation of young male admirers to any promising Cleopatra of the Junior class.

Vernon Huffman, one of the finest fellows we have ever known, wills his many abilities to the boy who proves himself worthy of them.

John Meeks wills twenty inches of his towering stature to Beecher Smith, Gene Green, and Barney Miller.

Gordon Barrett, Paul Cowan, Delbert Mogle, and Dalton Folger will a book, entitled "Sox Appeal," to Professor John David Leslie, hoping that it will aid him in his eighth-period conferences.

Mary Jane DeWitt, Thelma Hiers, Mary Ricks, Betty Swain, Mildred Robson, Helen Malcolm, and Valetta Kirby will a good, worn-out vacuum sweeper to Mr. Llewelyn to aid him in collecting senior fees next year.

Louise West, Arel Wood, Inez Jacobs, and Pauline West will a book entitled "Count Your Calories Before They're Pounds" to Betty Lou VanZant.

Fred Cluggish wills his enduring affections to a certain auburn-haired co-ed of N. H. S. whose initials are M. K. G. (Special stuff.)

The female chorus of this year's class play which was composed of Florence Circle, Carrie Duckworth, Marjorie Ross, Thelma O'Dell, Lois Mills, Thelma Kendall, Esther Hanning, and Alta Guiling and who have now passed on to Zeigfields' Follies, will their ability to execute the "Light Fantastic" to the Faculty Dancing Club.

These thoughtful seniors, Louise Brenneke, Joe Futrell, Mary Olive Cox, Marion Reichart, Josephine Dailey, Myron Steffy, Jeanne Monroe, Eileen McSherley, and Mary Warnock will to Dr. Roy Herbert Valentine one jug of "Speed" serum to be injected each morning into his many tardy patients.

Roland Selke wills to Sarah M. Sanders one all-day sucker, so that for one day in her life she can eat continually.

Mildred Evans, Jewel Owens, Nell Lunsford, and Mildred Todd leave to Miss Melville a rubber thermometer that will foil the attempt of any innocent Freshman to bite it in half.

Mary Edgerton, Beatrice Richardson, and Waneta Werling bequeath an interesting book on "Personality Developing" to Mary Lou Shultz and Helen Pickering.

Richard Ellis, Charles Shaffer, Charles Davis, Clarence Freeman, Carroll McClish, Howard Rothrock, our promising agriculturists will their experience in feeding the cows and milking the chickens to underclassmen who have these ambitions.

Ruth Catt, Dorothy Mae Cable, and Marguerite Catt, will a package of unfilled dates to Helen Dittman.

Reginald Chambers, Ralph Hayes, and Earl Griffith leave some nerve medicine to Mr. Orville Justice Hooker to be taken before Muncie games.

Mary Erickson, Maxine Gray, Sarah Friddle, Maxine Green, and Emmalyn Wright give to Mrs. Eden a beautiful bouquet of posies in appreciation of her ever tiring work as sponsor of the Pep'ers.

Eve Sommerville, Hullman Reed, Esther Williams, and Cecil Torrence will to "Heigho Everybody" Day, a megaphone to be used in his operatic appearances at the Hillsboro Ampitheatre.

Vivian Wilkinson, Edith Risk, Louise Murray, Dora Conley, and Elizabeth Koon, bequeath to Miss Bryan a mask to be worn at the first of each semester so that she may attract girls as well as boys to her classrooms.

In an endeavor to diminish the expenses of the Y. M. C. A., Carlyle Ward, Jessie Browning, Alice Cassidy, Thomas Mastin, and Dolores Nicholson leave one pair of asbestos basketball nets to be used when Billy Thoman practices.

Betty MacDonald wills the editorship of the Rosennial to the junior who proves himself capable of this position.

Martha Locker, Mildred Peyton, Elizabeth Wright, Adrian Chew, and Dorothy Buggle will a large hat pin to next year's Student Council for the purpose of keeping their faculty advisor, Professor Bill Jones, awake during meetings.

Clay Orchard, Walter Pfenninger, and Judson Johnson bequeath to New Castle High School's future passionate plumber, C. J. Baker, a course entitled, "How to become a plumber and a lover in three volumes."

Thelma Steffy, Edith Wiehmeyer, Dorothy Mayne, Margaret Richey, Ruth Stinson, and Margaret Shopp will to the high school study halls four hundred overstuffed chairs and couches, twenty-five floor lamps, three soda fountains, and three radios, believing that this equipment will raise the scholastic standing of the school.

Joe Ratcliff and Howard Marshall will a law book to Professor Wilbur Allen, hoping that it will aid him in carrying out his duties as mayor of Mt. Summit.

Charles McDorman and Frank Cofield will their manly figures, handsome profiles, curly hair, their pull with the women, their scholastic ability and their knack of telling very tall stories to anyone who believes this hooey.

This, wherein, whereby, whereupon, thereas, or something, concludes the last will and testament of the graduating class of 1932.

Signed,

Future President of U. S., CHARLES MCDORMAN, JR.
Future First Lady of the Land, FRANK COFIELD.

CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER

14. Doors of N. H. S. were thrown open. One "freshie" asked Mr. Logan to take him up on the fifth floor (by elevator) on a sight seeing trip.
17. They would assign lessons today and just when we were enjoying ourselves.
18. We notice that Miss Sipe and Freddie Goar are still perfect lovers.
25. Pep'sers organize and elect Dorris McKee, President, Elva Jones, Vice-President, and Harriet Locker, Secretary-Treasurer.
26. Football season is here again and the faithful Trojans have defeated Shortridge and Muncie already.

OCTOBER

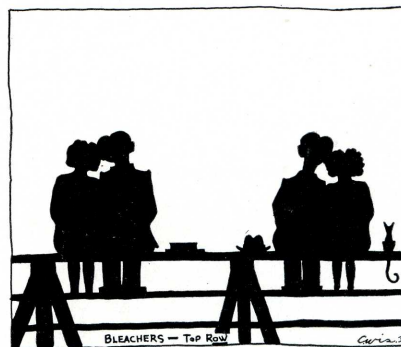

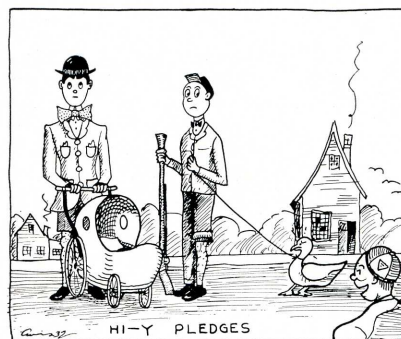

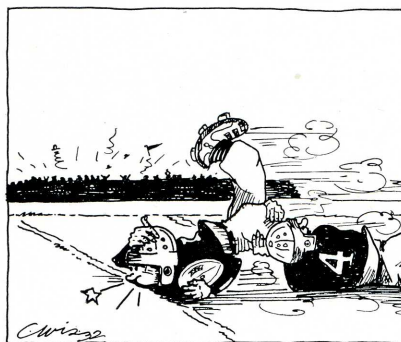

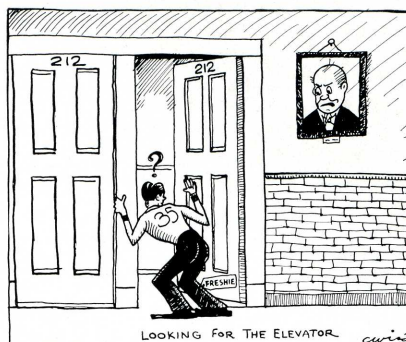

2. All good citizens of N. H. S. subscribe for the Phoenix.
Miss Chambers is given leave of absence because of ill health.
3. Newcastle beat the Huntington Vikings 7-0. Yea! Rah! Team!
10. One of those sad games of defeat. Score was 12-6 in Anderson's favor.
17. Carmel (icing) won the game, but we sure acted our part.
22. Teachers convention at Indianapolis. Two days vacation.
23. The Chemistry Alumni Society had a Halloween party at the log cabin.
31. Football game with Connersville at the Athletic Field. We won, 7-6.

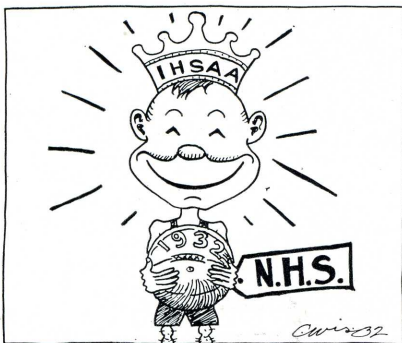

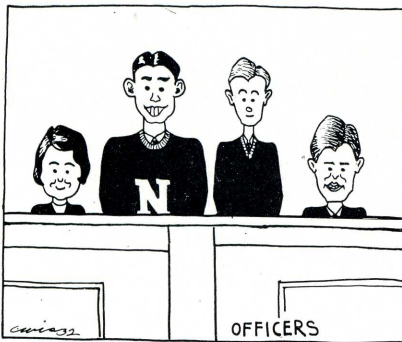

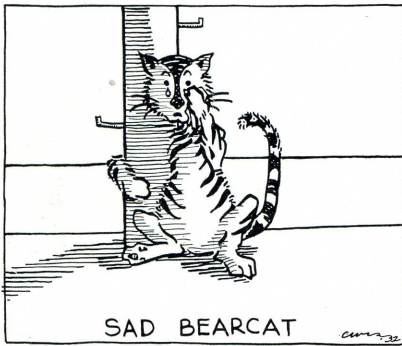

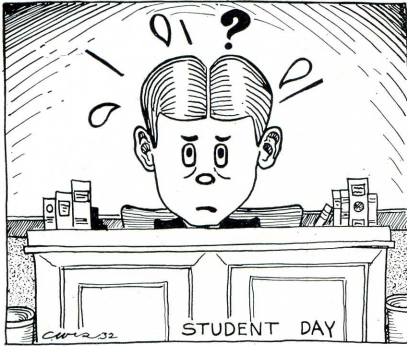

NOVEMBER

4. We wish Dorothy Cable and Louise Brenneke wouldn't break so many test tubes in chemistry laboratory.
6. Announcement for the sale of basketball tickets.
7. Last football game of the season, and Kokomo was defeated by the Rose City Trojans 14-7. Well, Newcastle has won five out of eight.
20. Hurrah! Basketball season begins with the Trojans winning from Hagerstown 23-16.
27. The Trojans defeated the Connersville team 17-12. Noble McGinnis is a pretty fair scorekeeper.

DECEMBER

4. Newcastle beats Kokomo.
7. Oh, shucks! Tomorrow we have to show our report cards to Mom and Pop.

CALENDAR (continued)

10. Student Day.
12. Let's see who that is coming down the hall so fast. Oh, heck, it's just some freshman girl trying to get a peek at our hero, "Huffie" Huffman.
16. Trojans won, of course, so Rushville goes home with tears in their eyes.
18. What a Christmas gift for Rose City. Lebanon goes down under the powerful Trojans 23-20. Vacation starts too.
31. How I dread going back to school! Won't graduation be thrilling?

JANUARY

1. We sure gave Richmond the run-around with the score 27-5!
7. We notice that Paul and Waneta are together an awful lot, but they say it's great to be in love.
15. Well, the Bearcats sure are sad. Our mighty Trojans walloped them 26-20, and how delighted we are. It was doubtful whether or not we would have a Rose City after celebrating the victory.
18. Pep'ers had the big banquet for the football boys. They deserved a lot to eat, too, but did "Midge" Day get more than his share?
22. Everyone welcomes Mr. Baker to the faculty. Much musing over the fact that Baker remains single.
27. Baker relieves the situation immediately by getting married.

FEBRUARY

8. First meeting of the Senior Class. Largest class in the history of N. H. S. Vernon Huffman elected President, Harold Hickman, Vice-President, Thelma Kendall, Secretary, and Donald Wildman, Treasurer.
10. Mildred Gann and Robert Trout are chosen Editor and Business Manager respectively, of the Phoenix.
12. First Phoenix.
19. Big game with Muncie 27-19. (our score is the smaller one). Much moaning and wailing as North Central Conference cup goes into hands of Technical of Indianapolis. Our Trojans rank second with a percentage of but a few tenths lower.
21. Delta Theta Tau's honor Senior girls with a Colonial Tea.

22. All Session rooms celebrate with Washington program.

MARCH

2. County Tournament gets a rousing start.
3. Final game of tournament — Trojans 54, Spiceland 9. On to the State, Trojans!
4. Emma Holtsclaw is elected President of Student Council.
5. Play cast announced. Imogene Brewer, Thelma Steffy, and Elva Jones are selected as the "Three Graces."
7. Meeting of the Senior Class. Motto: "Find a way or make one" selected.
12. Day of the Muncie regional. Can you imagine, we weren't sure until an hour afterward, just who had won the game, Newcastle or Muncie. The final score was Trojans 20, Bearcats 19! Thoman saved the day for Newcastle. On to the State, Trojans! Whoop!
16. Charles McDorman makes a name both for himself and N. H. S. by winning the district oratorical contest.
19. TROJANS TAKE STATE! Newcastle is literally turned "topsy-turvy" in celebration of the great victory. Does Newcastle love her Trojans?
21. Big pep meeting at the "Y". Cicero came down to help us celebrate. Heaven help the person that still insists he isn't interested in basketball.
22. Big Senior meeting. Betty MacDonald and Clarence Elliott to edit the Annual.
23. Community holds a big banquet in honor of the team.
24. Leather Lungs give a dinner-dance for athletes.

APRIL

9. We wonder what Evelyn will do without John next year and how Dorothy will stand the strain without "Hicky?"
19. Juanita Kepner has another underclass man on her string. What is this strange power?
28. The play "Three Graces of Hargate College" was given by the Seniors.

MAY

13. Junior Prom.
20. Class Day. Annuals out.
22. Baccalaureate.
26. Commencement. Can it be true our high school days are over? Hard to believe.

EPILOGUE

*T*HE Class of 1932 will soon be only a pleasant memory. May our Rosennial bring back recollections of our four years in N. H. S.—recollections that may be amusing, gay, serious, unusual, some even tragic. If the Rosennial helps to keep alive these four happy years, our purpose will have been fulfilled.
